

Accessibility

Published: 29.04.2021.

The website is designed in line with international norms and standards to ensure accessibility for every individual who is interested in the content. The principles of accessibility include functional diversity and meaningfulness. We kindly ask you to contact us in case you encounter errors or inconveniences while using the website – your opinion will make the website even more convenient.

<https://www.mfa.gov.lv/en/accessibility>